Application and Reasoning Using 'so', 'and', 'but' and 'or'

Developing

- 1a. I walked inside. I went up the stairs.
- 2a. Seth. He left both items at the park so he should have used 'and'.
- 3a. Various answers, for example: he likes crisps but I love cake.

Expected

- 4a. Ali wanted to drive to work. He could not find his car keys.
- 5a. Oscar. 'Or' is used to show choices; he should have used 'so' because they went to the beach because it was a hot day.
- 6a. Various answers, for example: my friend was sad so I gave her a hug.

Greater Depth

- 7a. I have no milk left. I need to buy some more. The shops are closed.
- 8a. Liam. He wore his coat because of the rain so he should have used 'so'.
- 9a. Various answers, for example: I don't have a cat or a dog but I do have a hamster.

Application and Reasoning Using 'so', 'and', 'but' and 'or'

Developing

- 1b. I love cats. I am scared of dogs.
- 2b. Sally. She is unable to go without a ticket so she should have used 'but'.
- 3b. Various answers, for example: we can have some beans or peas.

Expected

- 4b. Sarah could wait for a taxi. She could get the bus home instead.
- 5b. Beth. She needs both items to make a sandwich so she should have used 'and'.
- 6b. Tia lost her pet dog but he came back home.

Greater Depth

- 7b. We can have chips [for lunch]. We can have wedges for lunch. I would prefer mash.
- 8b. Lily. The bags were both big and heavy so she should have used 'and'.
- 9b. Various answers; for example: my dad said I can have cake or sweets but I can't have both.
